

Code of Conduct Agreement

Welcome to the Blount Mansion, Knoxville's only National Historic Landmark. We have several thousands of visitors a year and need your help to make sure all of our visitors have an enjoyable experience.

Please take a moment to read, discuss and sign the following Code of Conduct form with your class or group prior to your visit. Please bring a signed copy of this Agreement with you on the day of your visit and present it at the Visitor Center front desk when you check-in.

Blount Mansion Code of Conduct
The Blount Mansion Association strives to provide an inquiry-based and hands-on learning experience for all visitors. We invite you to use the grounds and property with respect. Guests who present a danger to other guests or to the Blount Mansion Association & Museum will be asked to leave without a refund.
<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Teachers and chaperones are responsible for the behavior and supervision of their group at all times and should stay with their group throughout the field trip.• There must be one adult (18+ years) chaperone for every 20 children.• Children and students are expected to demonstrate respectful behavior at all times. Shouting, screaming, shoving, running, and veering away from the group is not tolerated.• To protect our historic structures, other buildings, and artifacts, food and beverage are only allowed in the picnic area and in the Visitors Center.• Gum is not allowed inside the historic structures, the museum, the visitor center, or the gift shop.• Cell phones must be turned off and away for the entirety of the field trip.• Each group must go through a brief orientation upon arrival.

Promise Statement:

My group members are prepared to share this environment with other guests and abide by the rules set above. My group has been read the rules and will behave in a respectful manner while at the Blount Mansion. I understand that if one of my group members or chaperones is found in violation of this Code of Conduct, the Blount Mansion staff reserve the right to ask the entire group to leave. The Blount Mansion will not be responsible for any of the group's incurred expenses, including transportation and admission to the facility. The organization's administrator will be notified of the violation.

I hereby acknowledge that I have read the above and agree to uphold the Code of Conduct at all times while at the Blount Mansion.
